

Sailing

Beyond the ordinary

Leave the meeting rooms for a while and take your team out on the water. Sailing is a relaxed and enjoyable way to strengthen collaboration, where everyone can take part regardless of previous experience.

On board our spacious sailing yachts, you work together to get the boat moving forward. Someone steers, someone hoists the sails, and others help where needed. It usually doesn't take long before the communication flows, the laughter starts, and the team begins to function as one unit.

The activity is easy to take part in and requires no previous experience – our skipper guides you through everything. You choose your level of involvement: be active and take part in the sailing, or sit back and enjoy the ride and the views of the Stockholm archipelago.

The sailing creates natural conversations, strengthens relationships, and gives you a shared experience to bring back to the workplace. Perfect for teams who want to do something together without it feeling like traditional teambuilding.

Ideal as part of a kick-off, a client activity, or a break during a conference.
